

Workplace & Employment Law Update

Each year, more-and-more California HR professionals rely on Employers Group's information-packed, one-day Workplace & Employment Law Update (WELU). The event – now in six locations – covers the issues, laws, and practices California businesses need to know about so they prepare for 2016. Unlike other updates, Employers Group delivers its WELU before the new year so HR and business leaders have time to adequately handle compliance complexities. Plus, EG's program also covers timely workplace issues that impact how companies do business. In Southern California, this year's program will feature an expanded legal and HR update, morning breakout sessions, a keynote luncheon featuring a judicial and wage & hour update by Richard Simmons. In Oakland -- and by past attendee request -- participants will network, share, and learn in a full-day, workshop-style event.
